KATE CEBERANO AND THE SYDNEY SYMPHONY
GREATEST HITS LIVE AT THE SYDNEY OPERA HOUSE
WITH SPECIAL GUEST CARL RISELEY

Thursday 11 December, 8pm

Sydney Opera House, Concert Hall

Relive the hits which have made Kate Ceberano one of the most celebrated artists in Australian history as she joins the Sydney Symphony on stage at the Sydney Opera House for one special concert.

Performing songs from her recently released 17th album 'So Much Beauty' and all her classic tracks such as 'Bedroom Eyes', Kate will show why she was once described by Hugh Jackman as "Not only an amazing singer, but an extraordinary performer."

Known for her soulful voice, charismatic nature and ability to steal the dance floor, Kate has had a remarkable career spanning over 20 years. She's known and respected not only for her role in the music industry, but also for her ability to juggle an abundance of other roles.

The multi award-winner of many ARIA Awards, Mo Awards, Peoples' Choice Awards, and season 6 of Dancing with the Stars, Kate will be joined for this special performance by the talented Carl Riseley.

Carl recently released his debut album, 'The Rise' which entered the ARIA chart at number 5 nationally and quickly went gold, followed by a sell-out tour.

Join Kate, the Sydney Symphony and special guest Carl Riseley for an evening of magnificent music.
